The first attendee from a member company pays full price, but subsequent attendees from that company benefit from an additional discount (based on when we receive the registration)

*Airline discount applies to any employee that is involved in purchasing, analyzing, reviewing, installing or receiving aircraft parts, and that works for an air carrier holding FAA certificate under Part 121, 135, or 129. This also applies to non-US air carriers holding comparable authority.

 Government discount applies to any government employee that is involved in purchasing, analyzing, reviewing, installing or receiving aircraft parts, or that sets or enforces policy related to PMA parts (including employees of non-US governments).
